Angela Brittain SWA

Each work created has a search for "rightness" – an attempt to solve complex and often self-imposed compositional problems. They often have a tension below the surface.

"People fascinate me but I'm not sure that I made a conscious decision to make people central to my work or if this subject chose me."

She exhibits annually in London with the Society of Women Artists and through society exhibitions or galleries in London and Sussex

is an abstract landscape artist mainly focused on the wild flowers and grasses of the countryside. Largely self taught, she endeavours to convey joy and a love of nature through her work and invites the viewer to share in this connection. Her inspiration and relaxed style is taken from subjects she has sketched or photographed and those imagined; splashes of paint hint at the gentle movement of flowers and grasses on warm spring/summer days. Mainly working in acrylic and oil, Yvonne often uses texture to add depth to her work.

Janine Creaye RSS ...

works in a number of different ways but each is an extension of drawing and a response to the contemporary world. The choice of subjects is what she finds unavoidably engaging and so calls her to make a response. After study work in 2 dimensions, Janine produces sculptures by carving wood or stone or constructing in wire and cement. She often cold cast the cement sculptures into bronze and treats it with a copper and acid solution to make a rich texture and colour.
